"SYRUP OF FIGS" FOR INDIGESTION, BILIOUSNESS AND CONSTIPATION.

Better than castor oil, calomel or cathartics to cleanse your stomach, liver and bowels. Harmless Laxative for men, women and children.

Primitive folks did not need laxatives. They lived outdoors, ate plenty of fruit, and all of their food was coarse. We modern people are different. We exercise too little, eat little fruit, and our food is too fine—too rich.

We simply can't have our ten yards of bowels clogged up, liver choked with sour bile and stomach full of foul, effete matter and feel well. It means that the food and waste retained in the stomach and thirty feet of bowels ferments—decays. The decay creates poisons, gases and acids, and those poisons are sucked into the blood through the very ducts intended to suck in the nutriment. Then we have sick headache, become dull, bilious, tongue coated, nervous, meals don't digest, and we feel miserable all over. So we must make our choice. We must live like primitive folks, else we must take artificial means to move the excess bile and waste matter on and out of the system. The safest most harmless and effective stomach, liver and bowel cleanser and regulator for men, women and children is delicious Syrup of Figs, which doesn't irritate, gripe or weaken. Its effect is the effect of fruits. It is composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics. Don't think you are drugging yourself. Syrup of Figs can be constantly used without harm. Ask your druggist for "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," and see on the label that it is prepared by The California Fig Syrup Company. This is the only genuine—old reliable. Refuse, with contempt, the so-called Fig Syrup imitations sometimes offered to deceive you.

"PROVE IT OR RETRACT" COL. ROOSEVELT'S CHALLENGE TO WOODROW WILSON.

Denies Statement That the Steel Trust Is Behind the Third Party Program.

ALBANY, N. Y., October 8.—Col. Roosevelt called on Woodrow Wilson last night either to prove or retract his statement made yesterday in Pueblo, Colo., that the United States Steel Corporation "is behind the third party program in regard to regulation of the trusts."

Col. Roosevelt passed through Albany on his way to Michigan, the first time in which he is to speak on his tour of the middle west. He spent the fore part

EARLY HEARING SOUGHT. U. S. Supreme Court Asked to Expedite Railway Case.

An attempt will be made at the opening of the Supreme Court of the United States next week to have that tribunal immediately pass upon the controversy between the United States and the Northern Pacific Railway Company over title to some 160,000 acres of valuable land in the state of Washington.

The government contends that the land was a part of the Yakima Indian reservation and that the patents of the railway to it are void because the land was not given to them by the United States. Suit was brought by the government to oust the railway on behalf of the United States, which claims part of the land.

Unless the court grants the request to hear the case at once, it will not be passed upon for more than a year.

Railway Commissioners to Meet.

A call has been issued by Chief Clerk W. H. Connolly of the interstate commerce commission, secretary of the National Association of Railway Commissioners, for the annual meeting of the association at this city, beginning November 19. Members of railroad commissions from practically every state are expected to be present.

TRUSTS AND LABOR

Wilson Denounces the Domination of Special Privilege.

WANTS FREEDOM IN ACTION

For Regulated Competition, Not Legalized Monopoly.

POWER BEHIND THE BOSSES

Says Not More Than Half a Dozen Men Used to Own the New Jersey Legislature.

NORTON, Kan., October 8.—That the "very men who have been most successful in building up the trusts are also the very men who have been most successful in preventing the organization of industries is the contention of Gov. Woodrow Wilson in an address today devoted largely to what he characterized as "the pervasive power of the great interests which now dominate our development."

"Don't you know," he asked, "that one of the objects of their combination is to control the labor market? They do not have to give the laboring man any more than he can get in the competition of the market. And they do not give him any more. As a matter of fact, some of the most highly productive industries in this country pay very much lower wages than the unprotected industries. And some of the most highly protected industries pay wages that are below the living scale, at the same time that the profits they are making are so great that they can build new factories out of their surplus every second year. It is one of the grandest pieces of bluff and humbug that has ever been known in the history of political deception."

Highest Priced Labor Cheapest.

"I want to widen the market for American labor. I want to see conditions exist in which men will compete for American labor. I want again to see a time come when we shall realize that the highest-priced labor in the world is the cheapest labor in the world, that what is produced by brains and intelligence and skillful touch is a great deal cheaper than what is produced by stupidity and dullness and the will of the majority. American labor, up to date, is the cheapest in the world. I can prove it. American manufacturers compete in foreign markets in the scale of goods manufactured in those markets, near those markets, by labor that receives only one-third the remuneration of men can labor. Now, what does that mean? It means they can afford to pay American workers three times as much and still undersell their competitors in the foreign markets, and yet the American workingman is told that the amount of his wages depends upon the protective tariff. It doesn't. It depends upon him. It depends upon what is inside of his thinking box. And when you once get to a system of regulated monopoly, then you get to a system of controlled labor, don't forget that. Narrow the lines of competition and you stiffen the lines of labor control. You have not now a free market for your labor any more than you have a free market for your commodities; for under this system of monopoly, regulated or unregulated, the monopolist can determine the amount of goods to be produced, and therefore determine the amount of laborers to be employed and the price that the goods are to bring."

"Those of us who handle the machinery of politics know that the great difficulty in breaking up the control of the political boss is that he is backed by the money and the influence of these very people who are entrenched in these very schedules. I could write you out a list, if you were interested in it, of the gentlemen not exceeding half a dozen, who used to own the legislature of New Jersey. All that I had to do was to stand them up in front, metaphorically, of audiences all over the state of New Jersey and call the roll and their power was broken by the mere exposure of their names. How are you going to get a free government? That is the point. The absolutely necessary first step is to disentangle it from the things with which it has been entangled. What we want is free markets for our commodities and free markets for our labor; and we haven't got them. What we want is free competition, for one thing, but we haven't got it. What we want is free competing water routes that will enable us to handle the heavier kinds of our goods in transportation. We know perfectly well that there can't be a workable program until there is a free government. And what I want to point out to you is this: The center of all our economic difficulties is that there is no freedom of enterprise in the United States."

Wants a Free Government.

"Have you noticed that the trouble about conservation is that the government of the United States hasn't any policy at present? It is simply marking time; it is simply standing still. Reservation is not conservation. We know perfectly well that there can't be a workable program until there is a free government. And what I want to point out to you is this: The center of all our economic difficulties is that there is no freedom of enterprise in the United States."

Not Pity, But Justice.

"I for one do not desire assistance from the government if it be given in condescension and pity. I want only that consideration which is given in justice and righteousness and good faith. We are not children to be taken care of. We live in a free government and can't breathe anything but free air, and we want to take care of ourselves. This business of setting up individuals or parties as special favorites is the worst thing that is played out. So far as my pride is concerned, I would just as lief have a malevolent boss as a beneficent boss. I don't want any boss at all."

LEA ACCUSES PATTERSON

Charges Former Governor With Attempted Deception as to Murder of Carmack.

NASHVILLE, October 8.—United States Senator Luke Lea, opening his campaign at Columbia yesterday against ex-Gov. Patterson, candidate for the seat once held by Senator Carmack in the United States Senate, made the charge that Patterson knew beforehand that the Coopers had hostile intentions toward Carmack, and that he had sought to cover up this fact.

The senator said, in part: "Gov. Patterson need go no farther than himself when he looks for the person who first instilled into the breasts of the people of Tennessee the thought of his complicity in that crime by his utterances the night Tennessee was hit in sorrow over the bier of Carmack. "When he issued a statement in which he said that he had seen both Coopers during the day and had no reason to believe that either had planned to have an altercation with any one, and subsequently when he found that the attorney for the defendants had issued a statement, in which he said that Gov. Patterson had been with Col. Cooper and had done what he could to prevent trouble, Gov. Patterson issued a second statement, which directly contradicts the first, because in it he said that he had done all that was possible to avert trouble and had asked the younger Cooper to stay with his father."

Gov. Patterson attempted to hide from the people of Tennessee the fact that he had knowledge beforehand of the intention of the Coopers to have an altercation with Carmack."

The statements by Gov. Patterson were sent to Lea's paper, of which Carmack was editor. The second was issued after the return of the first had been sought CHICAGO, October 8.—Chicago's night schools opened last night with an attendance of 18,993 persons. Thirty grade schools and three high schools have been designated by the board of education for the work. The object of the schools is threefold, teaching the foreign-born to read and write the English language; completion of the education of boys and girls who left school before finishing the regular course, and giving technical instruction in special subjects which will be of benefit to persons employed in trades or in offices.

and obtained only after a sworn copy of it had been kept.

Lea bitterly criticized Patterson for his precipitous pardon of Col. Cooper.

More than 100 six and eight inch guns and mounts, of obsolete pattern, now stored in seven government yards, are soon to be offered for sale by the navy ordinance bureau. These guns, laid away in the Mare Island, Puget Sound, Washington, Philadelphia, Boston, New York and Portsmouth yards, are of designs no longer in use, and the commanders of these yards will be ordered to sell them in any manner they see fit.

Alfred Stanley, colored, wanted on the charge of having shot and killed Margaret Camper, colored, last Friday, came out of his hiding place in the woods of Upper Dorchester, Md., Monday, and surrendered to the authorities. Sheriff Bradshaw went for him in an auto and locked him in jail to await the action of the grand jury.
